Re: Your email address is not on the emailing list of Judicial Discipline Reform

Dear Mr. Segvich,

The email address segvich@hotmail.com is not in the distribution list of Judicial-Discipline-Reform.org (JDR).

Most likely you used that email address to subscribe to a group, such as a yahoogroup, to which JDR is also subscribed.

Hence, when JDR emails an article to the groups to which it is subscribed, the groups automatically redistribute the article to all their subscribers, including the subscriber who used that email address. JDR can neither prevent such redistribution nor cause any group not to redistribute its articles to particular email addresses.

By contrast, you can apply a filter to prevent a directly sent or redistributed email from reaching your inbox and instead to direct it to the spam or trash box.

In the yahoogroups protocol, the name of the distributing yahoogroup precedes the Subject line of the email that the group is distributing to its subscribers.

It is your right to be removed from any list. So I apologize if JDR articles inconvenienced you in any way, however much they are thoroughly researched and professionally written to be painstakingly accurate, sober in tone, and highly informative, and intended to work in the public interest.

The purpose of JDR's articles is to inform the public about judges and their judiciaries, and so to outrage it at their unaccountability and consequent riskless perfunctoriness and abuse of power as to cause the public to demand that politicians take a stand on that issue, make it a key one of the 2018 mid-term and 2020 presidential elections, and hold nationally and statewide televised public hearings thereon.

JDR's study of judges and their judiciaries is titled and downloadable for free thus:

Today, when you have a problem to resolve in court, you have to do it on a one-on-one basis against a judge. A single federal judge suspended nationwide the executive order of a president who widely advertised it during the campaign and was elected by 62.5 million people. What are your odds of forcing a judge - much less a panel of appellate judges, as shown by "The math of perfunctoriness"(†>OL2:698§A)- to afford you due process and equal protection under the law?

*† Exposing Judges' Unaccountability and

This can lead to judicial reform, including the establishment of a system for ensuring that judges are held accountable for their performance and liable to compensate the victims of their perfunctory and wrongful conduct.

You too as well as your friends and relatives will benefit therefrom.

Dear Reader

I respect people's right not to receive emails that they do not want. Consequently, I remove their email addresses whenever I receive any requests to that effect.

However, to the extent that there is interference with my email accounts from which I send articles critical of the Federal Judiciary and it causes feedback from readers to bounce, as colleagues have informed me that it happened to them, I do not receive such requests.

If in future you receive a message that your email was not delivered to me for whatever reason, please forward it to the Chairman of the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee, Senator Patrick J. Leahy, at senator_leahy@leahy.senate.gov Priorities USA and MoveOn are among the largest liberal "super political action committees" or Super PACs. They announced that they will stop supporting Sen. Manchin for having voted to confirm J. Kavanaugh.
