Dear reporter Raymond and curators Jones, Scarcella, and Merken,¹

1. I read with interest your article “How US courts can improve workplace complaint systems”, The Daily Docket, July 17, 2024. You indicated that the Report just published by the research arm of the Federal Judiciary, i.e., the Federal Judicial Center, found that the employees of that Judiciary have no effective or uniform system for complaining when abused by judges and other officers.
2. Your article will resonate with your readers to the limited extent that they empathize with the plight of other people, that is, the employees of the Federal Judiciary who are abused in the workplace.
3. Imagine, however, the greater resonance that an article will provoke that centers on how your readers and the rest of the public are harmed by abusive judges, whether they are, were, or may be parties to cases before those judges, or are affected by the precedential value of their decisions and the environment of disrespect for people and disregard for the law and rules that they generate.
4. Indeed, Federal judges dismiss 100% of complaints against fellow federal judges, as shown in Table S-22 of the Annual Report of the Director of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, which must be filed with Congress as a public document under 28 U.S.C. §604\(a\)\(3-4\). That dismissal rate reveals a complicit quid pro quo agreement, whether in fact or in effect, to ensure that ‘today you protect me by dismissing this complaint about me and tomorrow I and my friends will protect you from a complaint about you’. Included among those judges are those who formerly were federal district or appellate judges and now are Supreme Court justices or the Attorney General.
5. As a result, the causes for complaint are disregarded out of hand as there is no need for any investigation when its outcome is the dismissal dictated by the agreement. The complainants and the rest of the public are left at the mercy of the complained-about judges. The latter receive confirmation of the agreement’s ultimate objective: ‘We can do whatever we want for our gain and convenience because through our reciprocal exonerations we make our misconduct or abuse riskless. We have arrogated to ourselves the power to elevate each other to JUDGES ABOVE THE LAW!’
6. To find out the nature, extent, and gravity of conflicts of interests, deprivation of due process, denial of equal protection, etc., ask the public to exercise their freedom of speech guaranteed by the 1st Amendment to send you a copy of the complaints that they have filed about judges and the decisions disposing of them; and all unfiled complaints, which they can write applying this method.
7. You can help those complaints resonate nationwide by promoting the proposed unprecedented citizens hearings⁴. Complainants will tell them at media stations, university auditoriums, and video conferences; see below. Among them will be victims of Fabricated Indictments³ based by DAs on false and insufficient evidence and condoned by the NYS Chief Judge et al. Scandal sells.
8. For its lack of fear of exposing the justices, ProPublica won a Pulitzer. Reuters too can. So, I propose a joint business venture; submit a series of articles^{2, 3, 4} for publication from those(§A)⁵ that have attracted 51,850 subscribers to my website; and offer a presentation to you and your guests on the abuse of power⁶ by judges and those who systematically dismiss all complaints about them.

Dare shout ! accuse!...You may trigger history and even enter it. Sincerely, Dr. Richard Cordero, Esq.

23 July 2024

Proposal to Thomson Reuters and its staff at
The Daily Docket and the Business Development Department for a joint business venture to develop a law website with 51,850 subscribers and a plan of action to protect court employees and parties from unaccountable judges and their judiciaries who risklessly abused them¹

A. My qualifications and their support of my joint business venture proposal

9. I am a doctor of law, having earned my Ph.D. from the University of Cambridge in England; and hold an advanced law degree from La Sorbonne in Paris. I am admitted to the New York State Bar. I worked in the research and writing segment of ALR Fed (American Law Reports Federal) of Lawyers Cooperative Publishing, a subsidiary of Thomson Reuters (hereinafter Reuters). I left it to earn my Master's in Business Administration from the University of Michigan.
10. I bring to the joint venture my website, Judicial Discipline Reform. There I post some of my articles on the law and the advancement of the public interest by ensuring that judges and courts proceed fairly and impartially; and are accountable and liable to compensate the people that they harm.
 - a. So are:
 - 1) malpracticing doctors and their hospitals, and
 - 2) lawyers and their law firms;
 - 3) abusive police officers and their departments;
 - 4) pedophilic priests and their churches;
 - 5) the officers of gun and cigarette manufacturers and
 - 6) price gouging energy utilities and their companies;
 - 7) pharmaceutical companies and the doctors and pharmacy chains that peddle their opioids;
 - 8) movie producing moguls and actors;
 - 9) politicians at the top of government;
 - 10) FBI agents and the FBI itself for failing to investigate the complaints brought to them by athletes regarding sexual abuse by Dr. Larry Nassar;
 - 11) sport coaches and their universities and federations;
 - 12) the director of the Secret Service for failing to protect Candidate Trump at a rally;
 - 13) airlines that fail to take proper care of their passengers in the wake of a global computer outage that nevertheless was not their fault;
 - 14) a manufacturer of aircraft of which two crashed and one lost a door midair;
 - 15) militants and soldiers at war, their commanders and prime minister who disregard the law of war, e.g., the two Geneva Conventions, the safety and food requirements of civilians, the respect owed prisoners, the protection of hospitals, humanitarian installations, schools, cultural heritage; etc.

- b. The above classes of people work under substantially more intense on-the-spot, even life and death, decision-making pressure than judges, yet they are held accountable for acts and liable to compensate those that they harmed. So should be judges and the judiciaries that they run and whose wrongdoing they condone. That is required by the tenet “Equal Justice Under Law” and the 14th Amendment guarantee of equal protection of the law.
11. This is obvious when due to their abuse of discretion or power, error in judgment, conflict of interests, etc., judges’ decisions are vacated and the cases remanded for further proceedings or even a new trial that starts everything all over again. The cost that the parties already incurred must be borne by the judges and their judiciaries; and they must be liable for punitive damages when their acts were driven by:
 - a. dereliction of duty;
 - b. a cover-up;
 - c. bias toward prosecutors and police fabricating indictments on false and insufficient evidence;
 - c. malice or bad faith;
 - d. bribing or extorting silence or participation;
 - e. indifference to foreseeable harm;
 - f. willful ignorance and/or blindness;
 - g. gross negligence;
 - h. knowing disregard of due process and substantive law requirements;
 - i. exploiting confidential information obtained under seal or in chambers;
 - j. retaliation;
 - k. the pursuit of an undue benefit; etc.
12. Instead, federal judges ensure their unaccountability by dismissing 100% of complaints under 28 U.S.C. §351 against their own, as shown in Table S-22 of the Annual Report of the Director of the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts, which must be filed with Congress as a public document under §604\(a\)\(3-4\). That dismissal rate reveals conspicuous complicit conduct coordinated through an implicit or explicit reciprocal exoneration agreement. Congress has been informed thereof but has condoned it to avoid judges’ retaliation.
13. The public will be outraged upon being informed of how politicians in their own electoral interest recommend, endorse, nominate, and confirm candidates for judgeships and justice-ships. Judges’ decisional power is strengthened when exercised by federal judges because their jurisdiction is national and their appointment for life. In many states, judges’ terms in office run much longer than those of the governor and legislators.
14. ‘Power is expansive and unaccountable power reaches ever deeper into abuse’. Those who dare criticize judges risk their retaliation(Lsch:17§C), which can be as subtle as it can be devastating, e.g., intercepting their emails and mail. Fearing it, politicians self-interestedly hold 'our men and woman on the bench' unaccountable regardless of how blatantly they abuse parties and the public.
15. My articles have attracted so many webvisitors and impressed them so positively that as of 29 July 2024, the number of them who have become subscribers is 51,850 and counting. A representative article with an investigative proposal to Reuters and others is accessible through this link.

16. Those articles are supported by my professional law & business research and writing, and strategic thinking, which have produced my three-volume study of judges and their judiciaries, thus titled:

Exposing Judges' Unaccountability and Consequent Riskless Abuse of Power:
Pioneering the news and publishing field of judicial unaccountability reporting and reform advocacy † ♣

17. My website subscribers form a customer base, which can be expanded and monetized through the proposed business venture. They read my articles -which are intellectually demanding and written in long form, i.e., consisting of more than 1,000 words- and asked for more similar articles by subscribing to my site, thereby showing that they are interested in the intricacies of the law and public interest. It follows that these subscribers are likely to be educated, well-off, and influential. They can be offered the products and services of Reuters as well as those of third-party advertisers.

B. Public and media interest in exposing judges' abuse of power

18. The development of this customer base is facilitated by the fact that my articles deal generally with a subject that Reuters has shown to consider of interest to its customers: judges' corruption, of which abuse of power is part. So, it allocated an enormous amount of manpower, money, and time to investigate it through a massive, nationwide research project led by its reporters Michael Berens and John Shiffman. Reuters published its findings in a serial article beginning on 30 June 2020, titled "The Teflon Robe". Reuters found "hardwired corruption between judges and the state judicial commissions that are charged with supervising and controlling judges' conduct".

19. Accordingly, the purpose of my proposal is consistent with Reuters's corporate and editorial policy of exposing judges' corruption. My proposal aims to inform the public of, and outrage it at, connivance between judges, judicial commissions, and Congress. It has allowed judges to institutionalize abuse of power as their modus operandi to run their judiciary as a racketeering enterprise⁷.

20. Reuters's competitors have developed this subject too, thus proving the public's interest in it:

a. The Wall Street Journal published a series of articles under the initial title "131 Federal Judges Broke the Law by Hearing Cases Where They Had a Financial Interest". Their revelations so embarrassed the Supreme Court that it revised judges' means of matching their and parties' investments to identify conflicts of interests and facilitate their compliance with financial disclosure requirements. Even Congress has taken action to the same end.

b. The Boston Globe, the main newspaper in Massachusetts and the 11th largest by circulation in the U.S., published on September 30, 2018, its report "Inside our secret courts", in whose "private criminal hearings [conducted even by clerks with no law degree], who you are –and who you know– may be just as important as right and wrong". Politicians and judges condone this denial of access to justice, which must be rendered in public, and thereby obstruct it.

c. NBC News published the report by Erik Ortiz on December 26, 2021, titled "Robed in secrecy: How judges accused of misconduct can dodge public scrutiny - Thousands of complaints are filed against judges every year, but very few result in discipline. Ethics experts say the time for states to transform the judiciary is now".

d. ProPublica won this year a Pulitzer Prize for its serial article exposing the Supreme Court's self-exemption from the ethical rules applicable to all other judges; and its members disregard of the legal rules on annual financial disclosure(5 USC §13103(f)(11)) through their concealment of bribing 'gifts' that they received from the billionaire 'Friends of the Justices'.

21. We can win Pulitzers for representing(¶29↓) abusees who individually cannot fight abusive judges.

C. Promoting unprecedented citizens hearings on judges' abuse of power

22. The impact of the joint venture can be augmented by giving millions of people, whether court employees or past or current parties before Teflon judges, the opportunity to tell the public their complaints about the abuse of power⁸ by judges that they have suffered or witnessed. Each had to realize and cry alone that "The judges had all the power...and I was *nothing!"
23. Those people are on a quest for exposure, vindication, and compensation. Their most energizing desire is to open their hearts in pain to utter their complaints. To afford them an opportunity to do so, the joint venture will promote the holding of UNPRECEDENTED CITIZENS HEARINGS⁴.
24. The citizens hearings are to be held at media stations, university auditoriums, and public interest entities, including the 197 accredited law schools and 120 accredited journalism and mass communications schools. They will be conducted by journalists; professors of journalism, law, and business; IT/AI experts; and students. They will enable people in ever more venues nationwide to tell, and listen to, those complaints in person or via video conference. Many listeners will likely burst shouting uncontrollably: "That's what happened to me too!" They will want to tell their complaint.
25. Hence, these unprecedented citizens hearings will self-reinforce through a virtuous circle. They will empower a growing segment of voters informed of, and outraged at, risklessly abusive unaccountable judges to force principled as well as opportunistic politicians to seize the issue to handle it favorably, lest they be voted out of, or not into, office. They will give rise to the new voting bloc of The Dissatisfied With The Judicial and Legal System. That is our inform and outrage strategy.
26. The citizens hearings will have their findings presented at the first national conference(DCC:11; 31) on judges' unaccountability and riskless abuse of power. It will be held at a preeminent university and many others joined to it in a coalition and linked to it through video conference. That is how the first Annual Report on Judges' Unaccountability and Abuse of Power may be published. It will highlight patterns of individual and coordinated abuse of power and cover-ups.
27. The hearings must be held annually so as to exact accountability on an ongoing basis. They may induce the creation of the Institute of Judicial Unaccountability Reporting and Reform Advocacy⁹, attached to a national news organization or a highly respected university or graduate school.
28. Through the citizens hearings, universities, media stations, and public interest entities can develop into the only collective entity capable of holding politicians and the judges that they put on the bench accountable. Thereby the hearings can bring forth a powerhouse in American governance.
29. That powerhouse can cause transformative change in factually consequential accountability to the sovereign holders of public power: We the People. Accountability is at its most consequential when it leads in fact to liability and compensation. The hearings will provide the forum for parties and lawyers to meet and collectively demand that judges and their judiciaries be held liable and compensate their victims. They may give rise to representative journalism(1698³): journalists, professors, and students investigating, litigating, and lobbying on behalf of those harmed(cf. 571¶24a).

D. Promoting the citizens hearings through articles and a series of actions

30. The publication of a series of articles is the easiest, least expensive, and immediate means of promoting the citizens hearings. Articles can inspire idealistic students, in general, and law and journalism students, in particular, who want 'to change the world for the better'; and describe concrete actions that they can take. Therefore, they will be more impactful if made broadly available to students and professors from even before their return to campus at the start of the next academic year.

31. Three of my articles^{2, 3, 4} were written with that intent, which is apparent from their titles cum abstracts. They can be presented at a press conference and distributed through a special effort to professors and student organizations, e.g., those that will be at the recruiting fair at the start of the new semester; public interest entities; journalists and republishing media outlets; capital venture investors; and politicians seeking a distinguishing electoral issue. Similar articles are available for review(§A)⁵; others can be written on commission; see many suggested subjects, id.(§B)⁵.
32. After the assassination attempt on Candidate Trump, some politicians stated that it was necessary ‘to cool the political temperature and work toward unity in our polarized country’. One of my articles² echos that sentiment by arguing for a joint demonstration by Jews and pro-Palestinian advocates at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, DC, on Sunday, September 29, 2024, at noon.
33. The articles can have their resonance augmented through their discussions in talkshows that allow listeners to call in to share with the audience their own experience of abuse by judges. This can be the beginning of forming a coalition of talkshows(jur:2:fn1) as a component of the powerhouse.
34. A similar resonance can have the documentary Black Robed Predators: when the judges prey on parties and the public. It can have a box office success like Michael Moore’s Fahrenheit 9/11 of 2004; and Penguins of 2019, each of which was the highest grossing documentary of its time.
35. There are many other concrete, realistic, and feasible actions¹⁰ in the plan for developing the business venture. They have been chosen and are guided in their implementation by the venture’s motto, which balances principled conduct and market demands because eve a noble cause needs money to be advanced: “Making Money While Doing Justice” as part of The Business of Justice.

E. We the People, strongest when voting, can force the exposure of judges

36. This is the most propitious moment to embark on this joint business venture because the national public is preparing to vote in the general election. It is eager to inform itself about how politicians deal with their personal and public interests. So informed, the public can decide how to wield its strongest powers: those of giving or withholding donations and volunteer work; attending rallies and townhall meetings; influencing through word of mouth; answering polls; and voting.
37. For their part, politicians can turn judges’ abuse of power into a key issue of their platform, townhall meetings, and interviews: They are likely to embrace an issue provoking public outrage to cater to voters; distinguish themselves from their opponents; and become its national standard-bearers. That is how the issue can become decisive during the campaign leading up to Election Day.

F. You can benefit by being instrumental in setting up the joint venture

38. The proposed business venture can develop two new markets in need of law products and services and receptive to third-party advertisement: that of the subscribers to my website and that of The Dissatisfied With The Judicial and Legal System, which can be cultivated into a new voting bloc.
39. Embarking on the venture calls for people who are willing and able to think out of the box to work outside their comfort zone. Salespeople and managers can in their own interest proceed so as to be counted among those people; or at least, they can identify, and refer this proposal to, those in their company with the entrepreneurial vision, energy, and professional ambition necessary to set up the joint venture. That way they will benefit financially and reputationally within and without Reuters.
40. Thus, I offer to make a presentation on this proposal via video conference; or in person if in NY City and, if you pay my expenses and fee, anywhere else. To schedule it, call me at (718)827-9521.

Dare shout “I accuse!”...You may trigger history and even enter it.

B. Subjects for commissioning one or a series of articles

231. judges' unaccountability(>OL:265) and their riskless abuse of power(>jur:5§3; OL:154§3);
232. statistical analysis for the public(† >OL2:455§§B-E, 608§A) and for researchers(jur:131§b);
233. significance of federal circuit judges disposing of 93% of appeals in decisions “on procedural grounds [i.e., the pretext of “lack of jurisdiction”], unsigned, unpublished, by consolidation, without comment”, which are unresearched, reasonless, ad-hoc, arbitrary, fiat-like orders, in practice unappealable(OL2:453);
234. to receive ‘justice services’(OL2:607) parties pay courts filing fees, which constitute consideration, whereby a contract arises between them to be performed by the judges, who know that they will in most cases not even read their briefs(OL2:608§A), so that courts engage in false advertisement, fraud in the inducement, and breach of contract(OL2:609§2);
235. Justiceship Nominee Judge Neil Gorsuch said, “An attack on one of our brothers and sisters of the robe is an attack on all of us”: judges’ gang mentality and abusive hitting back(OL2:546);
236. fair criticism of judges who fail to “avoid even the appearance of impropriety”(jur:68^{123a});
237. abuse-enabling clerks(OL2:687), who fear arbitrary removal without recourse(jur:30§1);
238. law clerks’ vision is fixated on the end of their clerkship, when they must ask the judge for whom they clerked for a glowing letter of recommendation (OL2:645§B) to a potential employer, which can bring in a signing-up bonus of hundreds of thousands of dollars; clerks are beholden to judges’ power to write or not to write that letter, which morally blinds clerks to their being used by judges as executioners of their abuse;
239. judges dismiss 99.82% of complaints against them(jur:10-14; OL2:548), thus arrogating to themselves impunity by abusing their self-disciplining authority(jur:21§a);
240. escaping the futility of suing judges(OL2:713, 609§1): the out-of-court inform and outrage strategy to stir up the public into holding them accountable and liable to compensation(OL2:581);
241. how law professors and lawyers act in self-interest to cover up for judges so as to spare themselves and their schools, cases, and firms retaliation(jur:81§1; Lsch:17§C): their system of harmonious interests against the interests of the parties and the public(OL2:635, 593¶15);
242. turning insiders into Deep Throats(jur:106§C); outsiders into informants(OL2:468); and judges into criers of ‘Me Too! Abusers’(OL2:682¶¶7,8) that issue an I accuse!(jur:98§2) denunciation of judges’ abuse: thinking and acting strategically(OL2:635, 593¶15) to expose judges’ abuse by developing allies who want to become Workers of Justice(OL2:687), as opposed to being enforcers of abuse or enablers by endorsement or willful ignorance or blindness;
243. two unique national stories, not to replace a rogue judge, but to topple an abusive judiciary:
 - a. Follow the money! as judges grab(OL2:614), conceal(jur:65^{107a,c}), and launder(105²¹³) it;
 - b. The Silence of the Judges: their warrantless, 1st Amendment freedom of speech, press, and assembly-violative interception of people’s emails and mail to detect and suppress those of their critics(OL2:582§C; OL3:1228);
 - 1) made all the more credible by Former CBS Reporter Sharyl Attkisson’s $35 million suit against the Department of Justice for its illegal intrusion into her computers to spy on her ground-breaking investigation and embarrassing reporting(OL2:612§b);
 - 2) by using Information Technology examination and statistical analysis, such interception and contents-based suppression can be exposed, which will provoke a scandal graver than that resulting from Edward Snowden's revelations of NSA's massive illegal collection of only non-personally identifiable metadata(OL2:583§3);

3) the exposure can be bankrolled as discreetly as Peter Thiel, co-founder of PayPal, bankrolled the suit of Hulk Hogan against the tabloid Gawker for invasion of privacy and thereby made it possible to prosecute and win a judgment for more than $140 million(OL2:528);

4) principles can be asserted and money made by exposing judges' interception;

244. launching a Harvey Weinstein-like(jur:4¶¶10-14) generalized media investigation into judges' abuse of power as their institutionalized modus operandi; conducted also by journalists and me with the benefit of the numerous leads(OL:194§E) that I have gathered;
245. Black Robed Predators(OL:85) or the making of a documentary as an original video content by a media company or an investigative TV show, with the testimony of judges' victims, clerks, lawyers, faculty, and students; and crowd funding to attract to its making and viewing the crowd that advocate honest judiciaries and the victims of judges' abuse of power;
246. promoting the unprecedented to turn judges' abuse of power into a key mid-term elections issue and thereafter insert it in the national debate:
- a. the holding by journalists, newsanchors, media outlets, and law, journalism, business, and IT schools in their own commercial, professional, and public interest as We the People's loudspeakers of nationally and statewide televised citizens hearings(OL2:675§2, 580§2) on judges' unaccountability and consequent riskless abuse;
 - b. a forensic investigation by Information Technology experts to determine whether judges intercept the communications of their critics(OL3:1228; OL2:633§D, OL2:582§C);
 - c. suits by individual parties and class actions to recover from judges, courts, and judiciaries filing fees paid by parties as consideration for 'justice services'(OL2:607) offered by the judges although the latter knew that it was mathematically(OL2:608§A; 457§D) impossible for them to deliver those services to all filed cases; so the judges committed false advertisement and fraud in the inducement to the formation of service contracts, and thereafter breach of contract by having their court and law clerks perfunctorily dispose of cases by filling out "dumping forms"(OL2:608¶5);
 - d. suits by clients to recover from their lawyers attorneys' fees charged for prosecuting cases that the lawyers knew or should have known(jur:90§§b, c) the judges did not have the manpower to deliver, or the need or the incentive to deal with personally, whereby the lawyers committed fraud by entering with their clients into illusory contracts that could not obtain the sought-for 'justice services'; and
 - e. suits in the public interest to recover the public funds paid to judges who have failed to earn their salaries by routinely not putting in an honest day's work, e.g., closing their courts before 5:00 p.m., thus committing fraud on the public and inflicting injury in fact on the parties who have been denied justice through its delay(cf. OL2:571¶24a);
247. how parties can join forces to combine and search their documents for communality points (OL:274-280; 304-307) that permit the detection of patterns of abuse by one or more judges, which patterns the parties can use to persuade journalists to investigate their claims of abuse;
248. the development of my website Judicial Discipline Reform at <http://www.Judicial-Discipline-Reform.org>, which as of 29 July 2024, had 51,849+ subscribers, into:

- a. a clearinghouse for complaints against judges uploaded by the public;
 - b. a research center for professionals and parties(OL2:575) to search documents for the most persuasive evidence of abuse: patterns of abuse by the same judge presiding over their cases, the judges of the same court, and the judges of a judiciary; and
 - c. the showroom and shopping portal of a multidisciplinary academic and business venture (jur:119§§1-4). It can be the precursor of the institute of judicial unaccountability reporting and reform advocacy attached to a top university or established by a consortium of media outlets and academic institutions(jur:130§5);
249. a tour of presentations(OL:197§G) by me sponsored by you on:
- a. judges' abuse(jur:5§3; OL:154 ¶ 3);
 - b. development of software to conduct fraud and forensic accounting(OL:42, 60); and to perform thanks to artificial intelligence a novel type of statistical, linguistic, and literary analysis of judges' decisions and other writings(jur:131§b) to detect bias and disregard of the requirements of due process and equal protection of the law;
 - c. promoting the participation of the audience in the investigation(OL:115) into judges' abuse; and their development of local chapters of investigators/researchers that coalesce into a Tea Party-like single issue, civic movement(jur:164§9) for holding judges accountable and liable to their victims: the People's Sunrise(OL:201§J);
 - d. announcement of a Continuing Legal Education course, a webinar, a seminar, and a writing contest(*>ddc:1), which can turn the audience into clients and followers;
250. a multimedia, multidisciplinary public conference(jur:97§1; *>dcc:13§C) on judges' abuses held at a top university(OL2:452) to pioneer the reporting thereon in our country and abroad;
- the call of the constitutional convention(OL:136§3) that 34 states have petitioned Congress to convene since April 2, 2014, satisfying the amending provisions of the Constitution, Article V.

429. When a court issues a decision, it is first published in ‘slip form’ or ‘advanced sheets’, that is, separate from any other decision
- a. Thereafter the decisions issued during a period of months are published in a pamphlet’
 - b. Finally, the pamphlets are bound in a hardcover volume. A set of such volumes containing the decisions for a number of years is normally referred to as a ‘reporter’ or ‘reports’. One set can cost tens of thousands of dollars.
 - c. Normally, reporters are enhanced editorially by the publisher, rather than the writing judge or their courts, with a summary; headnotes summarizing the key point of law of a section of the decision; key numbers identifying the same point everywhere in any law book published by the same publisher; historical notes; and references to other cases, pertinent laws and regulations; etc. Those enhancements are practically indispensable to conduct cost-efficient law research. They save an enormous amount of research and reading time.

- d. Reporters -or reports- may be available online on a subscription basis. They may also be accessible, whether online or physically, in the library of a court, a law school, a bar association, a law firm, a public library, or a law institute or service, e.g., Legal Information Institute of Cornell Law School (LII), <https://www.law.cornell.edu/>, and Findlaw, <https://www.findlaw.com/>, provided you are a member; have been granted or have purchased a temporary pass; or there is some measure of public access.
- c. The decisions for a given court may be published together in their own reporter, such as the U.S. Supreme Court, e.g., <https://store.legal.thomsonreuters.com/law-products/search?r=13001&s=KEYWORDSEARCH&q=Supreme+Court+reporter>; or
- d. the highest state court, such as the New York State Court of Appeals, <https://store.legal.thomsonreuters.com/law-products/Case-Law/New-York-Court-of-Appeals-Reports-2d-and-3d/p/100001560>; or

- g. - h. The decisions of the federal courts are normally published in volumes separate from the state court decisions. However, there are online subscription plans that provide access to the federal and state decisions concerning a state or a federal circuit; e.g., call Thomson Reuters Customer Service at (800)328-4880 and ask about its plans.

Appendix 7

Two blocs of email addresses of journalists, media outlets, professors, and students who can be persuaded to hold UNPRECEDENTED CITIZENS HEARINGS on judges' unaccountability and consequent riskless abuse of power.

Place each in the To: box of separate emails containing your story of abuse that you have suffered or witnessed. You can easily write it in up to 500 words by applying the two-phase method. By so doing, your story will be informative, accurate, and verifiable by those who can enable you to tell it at the hearings.‡
